New Postal Facility Planned

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

A new post office facility for Andover has been presented for consideration by local officials, and may result in a local business or financial unit in the downtown area and a mail processing center on Andover street.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin was informed by John Raftus of the Boston Area Facilities office of the postal service, that a purchase and sales agreement has been signed with Sidney P. White for land across Andover street from the dairy White now operates.

Plans call for having a unit for the sale of stamps and other counter business of the postal service in the downtown Andover area and the mail processing center at the new one-story Andover street location.

The present postal facility

Three Violent Deaths Baffling As To Motives

Eight Lives
Left

Charlie, a rather adventurous cat, got a bit too curious last week on Elm street and found itself marooned on a rather high perch. But it wasn't long before a telephone company worker, making repairs nearby was able to effect the rescue, as evidenced in this series of photos by Elaine Apostola. Charlie seems quite comfortable back in the arms of its owner, Mrs. Ann Greenhow.

Three violent deaths in a two-day period, remain under investigation by Andover police this week.

Baffling local and state authorities is a motive for the slaying of Jean Glover, a 70-year-old passenger in a car driven by her nephew along Route 93 last Friday night. The woman was the victim of a bullet fired from a passing car after an exchange of blinking lights along the expressway as the cars came from New Hampshire toward Boston.

Thursday morning, two farm workers from Puerto Rico, employed at the Vartabedian farm on Bellevue Road, were victims of an apparent murder-suicide.

Ironically, the Friday night homicide brought police to within a tenth of a mile of the Thursday shootings, when James Ivey, 42, driver of the car in which the Glover woman was a passenger, drove off Route 93 to a Tessier Drive home to call for assistance.

The Friday night, Route 93 slaying, is baffling from the point of attempting to develop a motive beyond senseless annoyance.

Ivey and his wife, Jean, of Everett, had been heading toward their Everett home after a shopping trip to New Hampshire.

A light colored, compact car passed them blinking its high beams off and on, a sometimes customary procedure, and passed him.

Ivey then flipped his lights and passed the car somewhere beyond the bridge over the Merrimack.

The light-colored car then flicked the lights and passed the Ivey vehicle, opening fire from a small hand pistol.

The bullet went through the window on the passenger side of the Ivey car, striking the woman on the left back side of the neck.

The shooting occurred about 9 p.m. and believed to be somewhere between the River Road and Route 495 interchange.

Ivey drove off the highway at Route 133 and went to a Tessier Drive home to summon assistance. The Glover woman, Ivey's aunt, was taken to Lawrence General Hospital, where an autopsy was performed by Dr. George Katsas, state pathologist.

The assailant was described as wearing a gray sweat shirt and had long hair.

Local and state police have asked the assistance of anyone who may have seen any activity involving a car flicking its lights on 93 on Friday night to provide them with information.

Andover Police Sgt. Robert B. Parker said that several calls have been received. Also, Sgt. Parker and ten patrolmen searched a ten mile stretch of the border of Route 93 in the southbound lane Monday, in an effort to possibly locate the gun used in the shooting.

Shootings At Farm

Local police are also puzzled as to a motive for the apparent murder-suicide at the Vartabedian farm.

Annual Meeting For Y

The 7th Annual Meeting of the Andover-North Andover YMCA will be held next Monday, Nov. 17, 7:30 p.m. in the new YMCA building, 165 Haverhill St., Andover. Mrs. Paul Donahue, second vice president, is chairman of the annual meeting committee. The program will include the reports of President Robert A. Watters, Treasurer Richard MacGowan and Executive Director Richard P. Cate. The annual business meeting will also provide for election of members of the board of directors and officers of the association and the board. V. Donald Jacobsen is chairman of the nominating committee.

Reports will be of particular interest since they will cover the first year of operation in the new family YMCA facility. Adult members of the YMCA have been invited to attend and other interested adults will be welcome as non-voting guests.

Historians To Hear Of Early Life

The Andover Historical Society will meet on Thursday, Nov. 20, at 8 p.m. at the Deacon Amos Blanchard House, 97 Main St.

Mrs. Robert M. Barclay of Reading will speak on "Life in Early America as seen through the eyes of Alice Morse Earle." A former teacher of U.S. History at Reading High School, Mrs. Barclay holds degrees from Radcliffe and Harvard, and is secretary of the Reading Antiquarian Society. A number of Mrs. Earle's books on Colonial life and times are available at Memorial Hall Library.

Following the meeting refreshments will be served by the Hospitality Committee.

Open House At Austin

An open house will be held at Austin Preparatory School, 101 Willow St., Reading, on Nov. 23 from 1:30 to 5 p.m. Students will be present to serve as guides, as well as conduct typical experiments in various laboratories. Representatives of the Registrar's Office and Business Office will be available to answer questions.

All interested boys and their parents and friends are invited to attend. The entrance and scholarship exam will be given on Saturday, Dec. 6 and Dec. 13 at 8:45 a.m.

Lessons Of Comradeship Guideposts For All

Asking that "we learn to live by the lessons of comradeship they knew," Rev. Randolph W. Becker, paid tribute to Veterans during the annual Veterans Day ceremonies Tuesday at Spring Grove cemetery and at special services at the Shawsheen River.

Veterans organizations, families and friends joined in the brief but impressive ceremonies, during which Rev. Dr. Becker, minister of the Unitarian-Universalist church delivered the eulogy.

Rev. Dr. Becker spoke of the quiet reality of the veteran and the lessons they have provided for all. The title veteran encompasses not only those who served on front lines, but all those who served their country in varying capacities. For every active participant, a host of people stand as veterans of the same cause, as ones who stood the test of conflict as well," Rev. Dr. Becker advised.

The speaker said that while none would wish to see a world besieged by conflict, "all of us here know that the times of conflict brought us lessons that would enrich our lives in any time.

"For any veteran knows that in the times of need, the spirit of cooperation, of compassion, of mutual courage and sympathy grow larger. While the capacity of humanness is tested to the fullest by the demands of service, that capacity of humanness grows. We can discover that when people, men and women, work together, they can do so much more, care so much more, dare so much, than they ever did alone.

"So, be this our prayer this Veterans Day, that we remember and pay homage to all who have served us, in times of war and times of peace. And, many that homage not only be for what they did, but also for the lesson they teach is, of the capacity we all have for greater expression of our ability for service," Rev. Dr. Becker said.

Members of Andover Post 2128, Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary and Andover Post 8, American Framed by American and Veterans organization's flags, John McClellan of Andover Post 2128, Veterans of Foreign Wars, stands guard during annual Veterans Day tribute at Spring Grove cemetery Tuesday morning.

Legion, Post 8 and Auxiliary, Spring Grove cemetery for the gathered at the Legion lot in 11 a.m. service.

Families and friends joined in the traditional tribute to Veterans of all wars as Commander Benjamin M. Brown of American Legion Post 8, opened the service and presented James Caldwell, chaplain of Post 8, American Legion to deliver the opening prayer.

Following the eulogy by Rev. Dr. Becker, Commander Brown of the Legion placed wreaths at the memorial tablet. Gordon B. Cannon, chaplain of the VFW gave the benediction. The volley to the dead was given by the combined firing squads and sounding of taps by Mark Grigolo, Andover High school student, concluded the service.

The same service was repeated at the bridge over the Shawsheen River on Stevens street, as a memorial to Naval and Marine comrades of all wars lost or buried at sea.

The program was under the direction of the Patriotic Holiday committee Veterans Service Agent John J. Lewis, who serves as secretary to the group.

Santa Will Be Coming To Town

The official okay has been given to Andover Firefighter's Annual Santa Claus Parade.

The Selectmen Monday night answered a parade request from Chairman George Thompson and Co-Chairman Walter Potvin. The parade will step off at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, December 6, from East Junior High School, proceeding down Punchard Avenue to Main Street, then north to the Shawsheen Plaza.

Streets, Poles

The Lawrence Gas Co. has been given permission to repair gas mains in front of Numbers 13 and 20 Chester Street.

The Selectmen have also given the okay for Mass. Electric to share a pole on the south side of Chandler Road, about five feet west of Wakeley Lane, with New England Tel. and Tel.

The Proof To Come

The Selectmen Monday night approved a "transfer of corporation" from the Proof of the Pudding Corp. to the 19 Essex St., Inc. -- pending a positive report from the Mass. Criminal Histories Board on the new proprietor, Ronald C. Kelly of Magnolia.

The town fathers also approved character references for three residents, about whom they'd already heard from that board: Suzanne Bromfield, 165 North Main St., in connection with the Church of Scientology Mission of Marshfield, and Crayton W. Bedford, 180 Abbot St., and William A. Munroe, 39 Salem St., in connection with School Year Abroad, Inc., Samuel Phillips Hall.

Regional Goals

The proposed Regional Goals and Objectives submitted by the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission sound a little like a plan for "God and motherhood."

While agreeing that the goals concerning housing, environment, transportation, and the like were general indeed, Town Manager J. Maynard Austin said they had omitted a "significant" problem entirely: crime in the Merrimack Valley.

A public meeting on the goals will be held Monday night at 7:30 in the Newburyport City Council Chambers.

Walking The Line

Selectman Janet Lake will be "perambulating" the North Andover border with representatives from that town on November 22.

Acting Chairman George Heseltine consoled her with the comment that it is the shortest of Andover's boundaries with other towns.

"It pays," Mrs. Lake replied, "to volunteer first."

More Meetings

Mrs. Lake will also be representing the board at an Essex County Advisory Meeting in Peabody on Saturday, while the Town Manager will appear at the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission session next Thursday in Haverhill. Selectman Edmund J. Sullivan will attend the Greater Lawrence Solid Waste Meeting in Groveland.

Warrant Schedule

Decision on opening and closing dates for the warrant for next spring's Town Meeting, has been postponed until the November 24 meeting of the selectmen.

The Town Manager suggested an opening date of December 3, and a closing date of January 9.

While that gives more time than in the past, some selectmen wondered if the deadline might pose a hardship to people, coming so soon after the holidays.

The feeling was also expressed, however, that warrant items -- particularly "significant" money ones that would affect the tax rate -- should be in before the close of the budget.

The School Department budget is due January 9 and the Town Manager's, January 16.

Town Meeting begins April 26.

Hunter Safety

Hunter Safety Classes have been scheduled to take place in North Andover, Route 125, to be held at the North Andover High School at 6:30 p.m. on Nov. 20.

The classes, according to Hunter Safety Coordinator Sherman Howard, are of most interest to young men and women between the ages of 14 and 17 who plan to apply for their first hunting license.

Natural Resource Officer Gordon Como will serve as instructor. There is no charge for participation in the Hunter Safety Classes conducted by the Division of Law Enforcement of the Office of Environmental Affairs.

Safety In Shawsheen

New safety measures have been instituted in Shawsheen Square to assist youngsters crossing to and from classes at Shawsheen School. Beginning last Monday, Judith Corrado, crossing guard brings the youngsters from York Street, to the square where they are turned over to Officer David St. Jean who gets them across the square. The action was in response to concerned Shawsheen parents.

'Crucible' Has Andover Theme

ACT's production of "The Crucible" which opens at West Junior High this Friday, depicts a fascinating chapter of American history, in which Andover plays a part. When hearing of the Salem witch trials, on which Arthur Miller's play is based, one's first reaction is shock that such a thing could have taken place in Massachusetts less than three hundred years ago.

The fact is however, that witchcraft was not only believed in but practiced all over the world in the 17th century and before. New England was moderate in the extent of its response to the very real fears about evil spirits. Thousands of people accused as witches were being hanged or burned all over Europe, five thousand in Alsace, France alone.

Any accident, illness or strange circumstance was apt to raise suspicion of witchcraft. Spirits literally existed for the people of the 17th century. In addition the Bible admonishes "Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live" (Exodus 22:18). Those were serious words to the Puritans.

Most of the supposed "witch finders" in Salem Village (now Danvers) during the time of the trials were young girls who suffered fits, hallucinations, choking sensations and loss of appetite. It seems probable that the behavior of these girls who were possessed was, by modern scientific standards, hysterical. Still, most of them really believed that the "evil hand" was on them and this belief was the power the fear of witchcraft held over the Salem community at that time. Some of these girls are among the characters in "The Crucible."

Most interesting, perhaps to Andover, is that these "witch finders" were sometimes looked to by other communities when someone was ill. So, in February of 1692 Joseph Ballard of Andover sent for some of the girls to examine his sick wife. Within a short time, thirty or forty Andover citizens, some of them very prominent, were accused, whereupon Dudley Bradstreet, justice of the peace in Andover, refused to sign anymore warrants. He and his wife were forced to go into hiding as a result of this refusal.

Another voice of sense in Andover, the Reverend Francis Dane in a petition to the Mass. General Court, stated "Who can think himself safe if the accusations of children and others who are under a diabolical influence shall be received against persons of good fame."

For anyone interested, there is a display now in Memorial Library which includes articles on Andover's part in the witch trials as well as photos of the Andover Community Theatre cast members and objects from that period of time.

Three of the victims, Martha Carrier, Samuel Wardwell and Mary Parker, were Andoverites. In all, twenty died, as a result of the Salem witch hunt, nineteen by hanging, one by pressing. All of these martyrs presumably could have saved themselves by "confessing," but they refused to, evidence of their Puritan strength and belief in the truth.

Increased interest in the area's history that the Bicentennial has stimulated is one of the reasons ACT has chosen The Crucible as its fall production. Curtain is at 8 Friday and Saturday evenings, Nov. 14, 15 and 21, 22. The Crucible is being co-sponsored by the Andover ABC program.

Andover Artist In Exhibit At Bentley

The "monumental figurative" paintings of Jean McSherry DeRosa of Andover will be on exhibit at Bentley College from Nov. 10 to 21.

An artist's reception, to which the public has been invited, will be held in the faculty dining room in the student center on Nov. 13 from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Poet Helen Allen will read a selection of her work during the evening. Wine and cheese will be served.

For many years DeRosa worked with woodcuts and other graphic arts prints, but she now devotes her time to painting. Her work, of large human forms, is oriented towards people's psyches. Her aggressive strokes, kinetic color and deliberate distortions, especially of the human figure, demonstrate the anxiety and strength of humanity caught in a technological system.

Color, which DeRosa says has become most important to her, is used on her large canvasses in a controlled, or impressionistic way - reds butting blues and greens bumping reds. She paints, she says, "human protest, pain, anger, dignity, and the celebration of freedom."

DeRosa teaches art in Salem, N.H. and with the Andover Community Schools program. She has also taught children and adults at the YWCA and the YMCA in Lawrence, was art editor of "The Journal of Greater Lawrence," a weekly news magazine, and education director for the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover.

For 10 years she has exhibited in the Unitarian Universalist Church art show at which she won a first prize for graphics, and at the Andover library.

She was educated at Vesper

George School of Art in Boston, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts School, Northeastern University and Tufts University Graduate School of Education.

Additional information may be obtained from Bentley College.

Michelangelo

The University of Lowell art department combines with the Lowell Art Association on Nov. 19 in a presentation commemorating the 500th anniversary of the birth of Michelangelo.

Professor Liana Cheney of the University art faculty, a specialist in the Italian Renaissance and Baroque periods, will conduct the lecture and slide presentation to be held at the Parker Gallery of the Whistler House, Worthen St., Lowell at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited.

Enrollment Increase In Fall Program

The Recreation / Community Schools 1975 Fall Program registration was a success once again increasing its total enrollment beyond department expectations. The increase represents 20 percent over the previous registration, bringing total enrollment for the Fall Program to more than 2,000 students registered for classes alone. This does not include all those who participate regularly in the various open gyms and leagues. The department offered 101 classes this fall. After the first night of registration 37 of the classes were filled to capacity. A total of 58 classes have reached the maximum number of students allowable.

With the numbers of residents participating in each program continually increasing and classes filling rapidly, the lines encountered at the various registration stations have become formidable. The department is presently looking for ways to improve the registration procedure as well as to make provisions for more students to enroll in the courses of their choice.

Presently the Recreation /

Community Schools Department is in its seventh week of the fall program and is now looking ahead to the winter term. Emphasis will be on youth activities and the Department is seeking suggestions for program offerings from members of the community. These suggestions don't have to be restricted to youth activities, but any program you wish the Department to offer.

Program Notes

Men's Free Play Basketball has begun and is being held at West Junior High on Saturdays from 12:30-3 p.m.

Sunday Open Gym at the High School is now open from 1-4 p.m.

The Department is seeking a person interested in organizing a basketball league for girls in grades 4-6. Any girl in grades 4-6 interested in playing basketball should sign up with her school physical education instructor. We are also looking for volunteers to act as scorers, timers and referees. Anyone interested in any of these positions please contact the Department.

The Department has organized a floor hockey league for those students in grades 4-9. Play is in two divisions grades 4-6 and grades 7-9. Anyone interested in playing in the league is asked to come to West Junior High Monday, November 17 at 6:30 p.m.

A ping pong tournament for adults and junior and senior high students will be held on Saturday, December 13th. Registration forms are available at the Recreation / Community Schools Department office.

New Jail Talks Are Planned

Essex County Commissioners plan to meet with officials of the Massachusetts Department of Corrections to discuss the construction of a maximum security jail within the present 5½ million dollar bond order now appropriated to build a central penal facility in the county.

The Board met last week with Sheriff Robert E. Cahill and representatives of the architectural firm of Halderman and Goranson.

Chairman Daniel J. Burke proposed retaining either the Salem or Lawrence Jail and constructing a maximum security jail for 80-100 prisoners on a new site. He pointed to recent breaks at the Salem jail.

Sheriff Cahill said that now that the Charles St. jail in Boston has been ordered closed he knows the Committee on Minimum Standards plans the Salem jail will be the next county prison to be closed. Both the Salem and Lawrence jails were constructed prior to the Civil War. The Sheriff said that he will keep the Lawrence jail open, if given a choice. The Commissioners plan to meet with state officials to discuss the newest proposal.

In other business, a request from Project CASE for county funding of a court evaluation program was referred to the Essex County Advisory Board and the County Attorney.

A request from the Overall Economic Development Committee of Cape Ann, Inc. for county funds for a federal program to revitalize the Cape Ann fishing industry was referred to the County Council and federal funds co-ordinator.

Andover Bank introduces IRA. For people who want to retire independently rich.

If you are employed, but not participating in a company pension plan, start your own. Just open an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at Andover Bank.

You can deposit up to 15% of your gross income to a maximum of $1,500 each year into your IRA at Andover Bank. And earn the highest interest allowed by law. What's more, all your deposits are tax deductible. AND the interest your IRA earns is tax exempt until you start collecting payments. So an IRA not only covers your future, it gives you a remarkably attractive shelter right now.

How an IRA Account Grows

Number of Years	Amount Paid In	Interest*	Total
5 years	$ 7,500.00	$ 2,051.00	$ 9,551.00
10 years	$15,000.00	$ 8,696.00	$ 23,696.00
15 years	$22,500.00	$ 22,143.00	$ 44,643.00
20 years	$30,000.00	$ 45,664.00	$ 75,664.00
30 years	$45,000.00	$144,638.00	$189,638.00

*Based on present effective rate of 7¼% with annualized yield of 8.17% on a 6 year term certificate. Data based on income in the 25% tax bracket.

If there are two bread winners in the family, and only one is covered by a pension plan, the other can open an IRA with us. If neither is participating in a retirement plan, both can open Individual Retirement Accounts at Andover Bank.

And even if you are currently participating in a pension plan, but plan on moving to a company where you won't be, you can use your full pension payment to start an IRA. Regardless of the size of your initial deposit, it will be tax exempt.

Take a look at how much you can save independently for your retirement.

Doesn't it make sense to stop in soon and talk to Jim Barwell at our main office about an IRA? You'll have something wonderful to look forward to.

Music Hath Charm

For a few, fleeting hours, swishing silver blades and hockey sticks gave way to bows and brass and the baton of Arthur Fiedler at the Merrimack College Volpe Arena last Friday night.

The Ladies of Merrimack presented their annual Boston Pops concert to the delight of the thousands in attendance.

Here, some scenes of the celebrated maestro, and his audience during the popular sing-along portion of the program, as captured by Townsman Photographer Elaine Apostola.

It was a musical evening for the Andover area, with the Pops at Merrimack and the Boston Conservatory Ragtime Ensemble at the Sheraton Rolling Green. The latter program is reviewed below by Chris Young.

Ragtime Ensemble Provides A Foot-Stompin' Time

You couldn't hear the man or the music without being stirred and entertained and glad that you were part of this ragtime revival.

The New England Conservatory Ragtime Ensemble played the music as it was meant to be played with a happiness and liveliness and yet seriousness that would have pleased the men who composed and played it all over America at the turn of the century.

As Gunther Schuller conducted his sixteen young musicians in the two hour program of ragtime and early jazz, he introduced each number and gave the background and history of this first genuinely American music. His dedication to the revival of this, sadly neglected music and to the men black and white who wrote it, is obvious and touching and reached out to his audience.

Also reaching and captivating its listeners were the enthusiasm and expertise of the Ensemble which brought the audience to its feet many times during the evening.

The performance, sponsored by Andover ABC and attracting 500 people to Sheraton Rolling Green last Friday, Nov. 7, highlighted the works of Scott Joplin, founder of classical ragtime and his contemporaries, James Scott, Louis Chauvin, Tom Turpin and later ragtime composer, Artie Mathews.

But Maestro Schuller took his audience on a tour of black music from classical ragtime of the 1880's to the early "jazz", showing how the current musical form built on the earlier. The audience delighted in Jelly Roll

Morton's "Grandpa's Spells", Kid Ory's "Smokehouse Blues" and Jez Confrey's "Kitten on the Keys". "Charleston, Rag" written by Eubie Blake of Tin Pan Alley, Broadway and Boston Pops' success, also brought shouts of delight.

The evening provided more than the first-class musical entertainment it promised, for Mr. Schuller's obvious regard for the music and his attempt to explain its history went a long way toward accomplishing the goal that he and other serious musicians have set for themselves: that of restoring Ragtime to a permanent place in the American musical scene.

To Install Call Boxes On Route 93

Solid State Technology, Inc. (S.S.T.I.) a Massachusetts corporation has announced that it will supply 300 motorist aid call boxes and four computer receiving consoles to be installed on I-93 and I-91.

The emergency call boxes are of the same design that are presently being used on 64 miles of I-495 from Salisbury to Hopkinton and the call boxes presently installed on 26 miles of I-95 from Seekonk to New Bedford.

Call boxes will be located at half mile intervals on both sides of I-93 from Reading to Methuen and I-91 from Longmeadow to Bernardston.

The call boxes will be powered by the distressed motorist eliminating the need for batteries or wires. A person requiring assistance would simply open the call box door (which loads a mechanical power module) they would then select one or any combination of the exposed emergency buttons (road service, police, fire or cancel call). Upon releasing the door, a coded radio signal indicating type of emergency reported and the call box location will be transmitted to the computer receiving console located at State Police Headquarters. The operation of the mechanical module provides power to the call box radio circuits eliminating the need for conventional power sources (external wiring or batteries) eliminating re-curring high maintenance cost to the State.

Demonstrate Safety Service

Andover resident, Trevor Bainbridge, Manufacturing Manager at S.S.T.I. demonstrates the user powered call box feature developed by the firm. The system was on display at the recent Massachusetts DPW Public Safety Exhibit held at the Museum of Science.

This unique concept referred to as "user powered" was developed by S.S.T.I. several years ago. Company officials state that this concept offers tremendous advantages over other types of systems (wired or battery powered) primarily due to its capability of supplying its own energy (utilizing user action) ... especially during these critical times of energy conservation.

S.S.T.I. was recently the recipient of the IR-100 Award. The company's batteryless, wireless System 270 radio call box was selected among the 100 most significant new products of the year in the 1974 IR-100 Award competition. The award was presented to S.S.T.I. at the Museum of Science and Industry

Faculty Group In Concert

The Phillips Academy Music Department presents an after-dinner chamber music concert, by faculty members, to be held Friday, Nov. 14, in the Underwood Room at 6:45 p.m. The Underwood Room is located in the Visual Arts Center across from the Andover Inn.

They will perform Carl Stamitz' Clarinet Quartet in E flat major, Op. 19, No. 3, and Antonin Dvorak's String Quartet in F major, Op. 96, "The American."

The clarinetist in the Clarinet Quartet (clarinet, violin, viola and cello) is David Irwin. Mr. Irwin is a new faculty member of the Phillips Academy Music Department. A graduate of Florida State University, and having done his master's degree work at Yale University, he was most recently on the faculty of St. John's University in Santa Fe, New Mexico. The string players: Florence Pearson, violin, Susan Lloyd, viola and William Thomas, cello, are all known in the community for their chamber music programs last year.

However, for the Dvorak String Quartet, the "Faculty Chamber Music Players" will be joined by Mrs. Cecilia Saltonstall, viola. Mrs. Saltonstall is an active musician in the New England area. She does a great deal of chamber and orchestral music, playing principal viola in the University of New Hampshire Symphony.

Tours Of Center Set For Friday

The Singer Learning Center has sent out invitations to administrators and teachers of elementary and pre-school programs in the area for Friday, Nov. 14.

Due to the many requests to visit and interest expressed by schools in the area the program will consist of a visit to provide a tour and an opportunity to discuss aspects of the program such as the primary unit for grades Kindergarten through three, the pre-school program for ages 3 and 4, the orientation program for 2½-3 year olds, early morning and late day care, summer program and volunteers and parent participation. Members of the staff at Singer Learning Center who will be available to discuss aspects of the program are Irene Rochwarg, Center Director, Nancy Deacon, Lucretia Lyons, Carolyn Bail, Ron Marro, Joyce Andrews, Mary Claire Barry, Pat Krumholz, Martha Burrill and Sharon Bovie.

Warriors Explode For Early Lead To Crumble Billerica 23-8

As The Opponents Drop Off

By Rick Harrison

It started out as the worst massacre since St. Valentine's Day, 1933 in Chicago, but ended with the Andover High football juggernaut gaining some respect for pint-sized Merrimack Valley Conference opponent Billerica.

When it was all over Indians' Assistant Coach Otis Tholander summed it up succinctly.

"I'm all wrung out," he sighed. "Boy that Andover team can explode on you, but I'm happy that we gave 'em something to think about."

Coach Dick Collins' crew entered the game unbeaten, while Billerica was winless, and the first quarter was played as if only one team was on the field. That team was Andover, as the Golden Warriors went ahead 9-0 after just 56 seconds and padded the spread to 23-0 by the end of the period.

For the final three quarters AHS came close but never touched paydirt again, while Billerica spoiled the shutout bid with 0:04 to play and wound up losing by a respectable 23-8 count.

The triumph stretched the Warriors' regular - season win streak through 35 games, and the MVC string through 32 contests, as Andover (8-0-0) continued on its collision course with co-leader Lawrence Central.

Slow Down, Please!

The Billerica nightmare started when it won the opening toss and elected to receive the ball.

Lou Pizarro, aided by his white-shirted mates, cracks through on way to a touchdown in Saturday's win over Billerica. The Golden Warriors face a tough test against Dracut at Lovely field Saturday as they head toward a showdown with still unbeaten Central Catholic on Thanksgiving Day.

Sophomore Cary Guarino took Louis Pizarro's booming kickoff at the five, went four yards and ran smack into a tractor - trailer named Gerry Stabile. Two plays later sophomore quarterback Larry Harlow fumbled a handoff, tracked down the ball in his own endzone, and covered it for a two-point safety as the ominous figure of Dan Ackroyd hovered nearby.

Only 43 seconds had elapsed and Andover was atop a 2-0 lead. Mike Mitchell was forced to loft his ensuing free kick into the teeth of a brisk wind. The ball traveled 26 yards, Warriors' sophomore Greg Gardner returned it seven, and AHS was in business at the Billerica 39 yard line.

On the first play from scrimmage, All-Scholastic wide receiver Glenn Verrette floated down the right side. Usually opposing teams put two men on Verrette, but the Indians paid absolutely no attention to him.

"Damn inexperience. Young kid back there on defense," muttered Tholander.

Everyone at the Marshall Middle School field knew what was coming, and junior quarterback Mitch Rousseau delivered with a 39-yard scoring spiral as Verrette cruised in 15 yards ahead of the nearest defender.

It was Glenn's eighth touchdown reception of the season, ninth TD and 58th point overall, and the seventh scoring pitch for Rousseau. It also was the fifth game in which AHS scored on its first possession.

Paul Derby drilled the conversion kick through the uprights, and with 56 seconds ticked off it was 9-0.

Deluge Continues

One short Billerica drive later, following a Keith Johansen punt, the Golden Warriors mounted a six-play, 57-yard trek to paydirt.

John Fabiani clicked off four yards, and then Verrette raced 18 more on a slight variation of last week's end-around... this one containing only one handoff.

Louis Pizarro slammed 17 yards, Stabile bolted 13 yards to the Indians' five, and Pizarro ripped off left tackle for his fourth TD of the campaign. Derby made it 2-for-2 and the two-time defending MVC titlists were ahead 16-0 at the 6:02 mark.

Co-Capt. John Drivas pounced on an Indians' fumble three plays later at the B-39, but this time it wasn't to be as Glenn Schermerhorn intercepted a pass intended for Mark Farnham in the endzone.

Once again the stubborn Warriors' defense yielded nothing, and with time winding down in the opening period AHS went back to work.

Pizarro cracked three yards to the Andover 47, and then Stabile powered through a gaping hole and sped 53 yards for his third 1975 touchdown with four seconds left in the quarter.

Derby toed his third successive PAT and went to 5-for-6 in three games, upping the cushion to 23-0 and evoking visions of Custer's Last Stand.

Turnabout

A bit of complacency on Andover's part, a rash of turnovers, and some fine defensive play by Billerica stymied the Warriors' offense the rest of the way.

The Indians, unable to penetrate beyond their own 33 yard line under their own power, received a break early in the second period when Tom Albrect pounced on a Rousseau fumble at the Andover 31.

A 13-yard scamper by Guarino was nullified by an offside penalty, and that deflated the Billerica scoring threat after hard hits by Drivas, Stabile and Danny Welch halted the bid at the AHS 39.

Midway through the quarter Drivas recovered his second fumble of the afternoon, pouncing on a bad pitchout at the Indians' 20 yard line.

Three plays later sophomore reserve signal-called Dan Welch learned a bitter lesson. He made a fine run around the right side to the Billerica four, but as he was tackled little Steve Henderson stole the ball right from his hands to end the scoring threat.

It was legalized thievery at its best, and Welch tucked the ball in much tighter on his other carries.

Andover had one more threat left in its system late in the half. Tom Kenney picked off a deflected pass by Pete Coppinger, returning it seven yards to the home club's 20.

After an illegal procedure penalty, Welch rambled 17 yards to the right and five to the left. Bob Hoelzel tackled on a single yard to the Billerica two, but Farnham was buried back at the 14 on the end-around.

Welch tried a fourth down pass to Verrette in a crowd, and while it appeared that Glenn was bumped the ball fell incomplete in the endzone.

Two Verrette Thefts

Safetyman Verrette, who catches passes for the opposition almost as consistently as he does for Andover, made two interceptions against Coppinger to thwart Indians' drives during the third period.

The first one was picked off at the Golden Warriors' five, and Glenn returned it out to the AHS 34. Three plays earlier Verrette had swiped another pass... but was out of bounds at the time.

Rousseau moved Andover's sputtering offense to the Billerica 46, thanks primarily to seven and 15-yard aeriels to Farnham and Verrette, but AHS bogged down and surrendered possession here.

No matter... one play later Verrette made a diving fingertip interception of a Coppinger pass for Steve Norman that was well overthrown.

No matter again... because on the next play a Rousseau - to - Verrette pass completion resulted in a questionable fumble recovered at the Warriors' 26 by Indians' Co-Capt. Gary Hefferman.

Mike Callery, Coppinger and Guarino alternated carries to the Andover nine yard line. The unbreakable defense held, however, as Welch stopped Coppinger for no gain, Guarino was halted dead in his tracks, and Coppinger was nailed shy of the first down at the six yard line by middle guard Tom Henderson.

Back-and-Forth

The first play of the fourth period, with Andover pinned down at its' own four yard line, saw a Rousseau - to - Verrette aerial bomb picked off by Schermerhorn once again at the Warriors' 35.

Billerica kept stumbling over its own cleats, however, losing ground on a too much time in the huddle penalty, an illegal receiver downfield infraction during a fake punt, and other errors of omission.

The next AHS series was distinguished only by a 60-odd yard pass attempt from Welch to sophomore Rick Collins. The toss fell incomplete, but watching it fly was worth the price of admission.

With less than two minutes to play in the game, Billerica trudged 61 yards in seven plays to ring up a score against Andover's second defensive unit.

Guarino ran twice for 14 total yards, and Coppinger hit Schermerhorn with a 14-yard pass. Good pursuit by AHS defender Alan Griffin stopped Coppinger after a one yard gain, but a 23-yard third down aerial from Coppinger to Norman advanced the ball to the eight. A personal foul split the distance to the goalline.

Coppinger then drilled a TD pass to Norman, after which the quarterback rushed the conversion to make it 23-8.

Not Over Yet

The Indians' outside kick squibbled out of bounds at the Andover 43, but with only four seconds to go the Warriors still proved dangerous.

Welch faded back and spotted Rick Collins deep in Billerica country. His slingshot arm let go again, but the Indians' Tom Lavery tipped the ball in flight. The pass continued on to Collins at the Billerica 12, and Rick turned to head for six points after the catch.

Tom Albrect made a desperation dive for Collins, nicking the coach's son on the shoetops. Rick stumbled forward a few steps and fell at the four yard line as time ran out!

Defense

Tops on defense for Andover, which has permitted only 42 points in eight games, were Stabile, Verrette, Drivas, Henderson, Hoelzel, Dave Mirisola, Mike Bernard, Tom Kenney, Welch, Pizarro, Barry McQuade, Bill Walsh and Ackroyd.

Second unit standouts included Alan Griffin, Greg Gardner, Bill Carver, Jim McDonald, Rich Pettoruto, Paul Keefe, Rick Collins at safety and Gerry St. Onge.

Statistics

Andover led the statistical battle in first downs (13-10), yards rushing (207-81), yards passing (130-49), interceptions (3-2) and total yardage (337-130). Billerica's lone edge came in scrimmage plays (63-57).

Stabile was the top ball carrier with 81 yards in only four carries. Pizarro was 4-for-34, Welch 9-for-42 yards, Verrette 1-for 18, Hoelzel 5-for-15, Fabiani 5-for-13, Collins 3-for-20 and Ken LaFleur 2-for-4.

Verrette latched onto three more passes, lifting his career total to 98, and he gained 59 yards. Collins caught a pair of aeriels for 61 yards, Farnham 1-for-7 and Fabiani 1-for-3.

Mike Callery paced the Billerica rushers with 42 yards in eight totes, while Guarino added 32 in 11 carries.

Hoelzel punted just twice for a 33.5 yard average.

The passing breakdown showed Rousseau 5-for-10 for 69 yards, while Welch was 2-for-4 covering 61 yards.

Injury Report

Junior defensive end Tom Coffey missed the Billerica game with a sprained ankle.

Co-Capt. Bill Alexander again was forced to watch from the sidelines as his separated shoulder mends.

For the third straight week Louis Pizarro was racked up, suffering an arm injury midway through the game.

All three are questionable for Saturday, although Alexander is expected back for at least spot duty or perhaps the starter's job again.

Schedule

The Warriors face one of their toughest tests of the season, potentially, when third place Dracut invades Eugene V. Love-ly Field for a 1:30 p.m. game this Saturday.

It marks the final home game for all AHS seniors, as the Thanksgiving Day battle will be at Veterans Stadium and a possible Super Bowl clash is slated for Boston.

Dracut enters with a 4-2 MVC mark and a 5-2 overall record. The losses have been to Central Catholic (20-6) and Wilmington (26-0). The victories have come at the expense of non-league foe Whitman - Hansen (35-14), Chelmsford (12-6), Billerica (26-6), Tewksbury (20-8) and Austin Prep last weekend, 14-12.

Middies' Coach Ed Murphy is both the dean of area skippers, now in his 30th year, and the winningest coach in MVC history.

Offensive players to watch for Dracut are quarterback Mike Parent, speedy running backs

George Malonis (36 points) and Armand Sancier, and Brian Sullivan who is hampered by an injured arm but should play.

Murphy, a good friend of Dick Collins, is looking forward to the game.

"Maybe if we recruit 20 players we'll beat them," laughed the Dracut coach. "We haven't defeated them since 1971, but I guess everyone is in the same boat. Last year we scored more points against them than anyone else (40-22 AHS win), and if you only count the second half we beat them.

"It's always a great opportunity to play a team with their kind of credentials. It isn't difficult getting your own kids up for the

Basketball Leagues To Open

Boys' Basketball League programs of the Andover-North Andover YMCA start this Saturday, Nov. 15, at the new YMCA building, 165 Haverhill St., Andover. The programs this year are open only to YMCA Full Privilege Members. Questions may be addressed to YMCA Physical Director Walter J. Kimball, Sr.

In addition to league play for boys 9-14 years of age, a skills training program for 8 year olds will be scheduled to provide a foundation of fundamentals which will make these youngsters better prepared to participate in formal league competition a year from now; included for the 8 year olds will be competition limited to intra-squad play. All other age groups will play schedules with teams equalized in strength for better competition. Prior registration is required.

The schedule this Saturday follows: Pee Wee Division (9 and 10 year olds) 1-2 p.m.; Junior Division (11 and 12 year olds) 2-3 p.m.; Intermediates (13 and 14 year olds) 3-4 p.m.; 8 year olds, 12-1 p.m. Age on Thanksgiving Day determines the age for the entire season.

Early practice sessions will be devoted to skills training, rules interpretation, ability ratings, and team practices. Games schedules will be provided each player prior to the opening of formal competition.

Skating Club Elects Officers

Frank McParlans was elected president of the Andover Skating Club at its annual meeting held recently at the Memorial Gymnasium, Phillips Academy.

Other officers included: George Keefe, treasurer; Mrs. H. L. Herbst, secretary; Stephen Whitney, Mrs. Theodore Taylor, Jr., Mrs. Neil Plass, Paul Herson, J. John Berger, J. John Kiley, Lyman G. Bullard, William H. Brecknridge, Richard H. Moody, Paul J. Perocchi and Mrs. E. Esther McDowell, directors.

The 1975-'76 season will open on Nov. 10 at the Phillips Academy rink. Figure skating lessons, under the tutelage of Mrs. Aldrina Regan will begin on Sunday, Nov. 16.

There are a limited number of family and individual memberships available. Membership information may be obtained by writing to the Skating Club at P.O. Box 271, Andover, or contacting the club president.

Olympic Night At Garden

There will be something for everyone who likes ice skating, whether it be the poetry of solo numbers or the body checking of hockey at a fund raising exhibition for the United States Olympic Teams at the Boston Garden on Monday, Nov. 24 at 7:30 p.m. This spectacular single performance will feature exciting Olympic figure skating solos and ensemble skating, and as the climax, the 1976 United States

Olympic Hockey Team will play the Harvard Varsity Hockey team.

Current United States Skating Champions headed by the 1975 U.S. Senior Ladies figure skating champion and silver medalist in the world championships, Dorothy Hamill of Riverside, Conn., will be presenting excerpts from their programs to be skated at the upcoming United States competitions and the 1976

Winter Olympic Games to be held in Innsbruck, Austria in February of next year.

Making their second appearance in the Garden will be Ann and Skip Millier, 1970-1975 United States Dance medalists and Colleen O'Connor and James Millns, 1975 U.S. Gold Medal Dance Champions. Both Miss Colleen O'Connor and Mr. Millns will be members of the U.S. Olympic team in 1976.

Buddy Werner League Notes

The Andover Buddy Werner League is having its third practice session Sunday, Nov. 16, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the West Junior High School.

This year, the Eastern Mass. Buddy Werner League is having a coaching and officiating clinic on Nov. 23 in Waltham at the Prospect Hill Ski Area. The agenda will begin at 9:45 a.m. with registration followed by a talk on how to officiate a ski race. There will also be a discussion on gate-keeping, calculating time, timing, quality control, records, race chairman duties, starting, finishing and referees.

There will also be rules and regulations on FIS and BWL ski racing.

At 1 p.m. there will be a coaching and teaching clinic on methods, course setting as used in race training, starting both manual and electric, ski equipment used in BWL racing, care of ski equipment such as waxing, repairing and filing edges.

The program will be directed by Ted Sutton who is a certified professional ski instructor and official, with Robert Thomson, first vice president, UUSA, certified Alpine official and Edward Hostetter, national chairman BWL and certified ESA official.

The clinic is designed to instruct those who are interested in team racing and to certify EMBWL officials.

At Conference

Alison Guess, Sarah O'Brien of the High School and Suzanne Coates, East Junior High, attended the eleventh annual Fall conference of the Massachusetts Foreign Language Association held at the Sheraton - Regal Inn, Oct. 31 - Nov. 1. The conference, which is held at different locations throughout the state each year, services the needs of foreign language educators at the grammar school, junior high, high school, and college levels throughout the Commonwealth.

Hoop League For Girls

The Recreation / Community Schools Department is now organizing a basketball league for girls in grades 4-6. The league will begin the first week in December with a clinic. Team competition will get underway the following week.

Any girl interested in participating in the league is requested to sign up with her physical education instructor.

Any team interested in joining the league should submit a roster complete with coach to the Recreation / Community Schools Department before Friday, Nov. 28.

Volunteer scorers, timers and referees are needed. Anyone interested in helping out for a total of no more than 10 weeks should contact the Recreation / Community Schools Department.

Opera Opens

Boston Light Opera, opening its second season this Friday night, Nov. 7, will present Johann Strauss' most popular work, Die Fledermaus. All performances will be at the Madeleine Lee Theatre adjacent to the YWCA, 140 Clarendon St., Boston and across from the new John Hancock Building. Dates for the performances include Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 7, 8, 14, 15 and Friday, Nov. 21 at 8 p.m. and Sunday matinees on Nov. 9, 16, 23 at 2 p.m.

Awarded Soccer Cup

Dan Lynch, a starting halfback on this fall's Phillips Academy Varsity soccer team, was awarded the Smoyer soccer cup in a special presentation during the team banquet on Nov. 9.

The award is presented annually to "the member of the soccer team, exclusive of the captain, who in his association with the sport has contributed most to the team through his sportsmanship, effort and ability."

A strong defensive player, Lynch scored three goals during Phillips Academy's successful season which closed last Wednesday with a 3-1 victory over Exeter.

Lynch resides at 99 Reservation Road, Andover.

Wrestling Program At YMCA

Over 30 boys in grades 4-9 are presently involved in the Fall Term Wrestling instruction class being conducted by the Andover-North Andover YMCA. The group meets on Tuesdays, 6-7 p.m. with plans to expand into several class units as interest develops.

Instructors include David Davies, Newell Hurt and Scott

Cate, all of whom have extensive training and competitive experience in inter-collegiate and/or inter-scholastic wrestling. In providing an introduction to amateur grappling they place emphasis upon physical fitness values, endurance in the activity and the fundamentals upon which may be based further development to whatever level of ability the individual desires.

The YMCA wrestling group is fortunate in that the original equipment of the new YMCA building included a 40' x 40' standard wrestling mat, with a dividing curtain which permits separation by ability groups or age divisions, and the mat is marked with four ten foot wrestling circles making four activity stations for instruction purposes. Classes for other age and ability groups will be started as interest in wrestling develops.

Hadassah Plans For Tennis Night

The Fourth Annual Greater Lawrence Hadassah Tennis Night will be held Saturday, Nov. 22, at the Cedardale Tennis Club from 8 p.m. to midnight.

Reservations may be made by contacting one of the chairpersons: Barbara Berman of Lawrence, Elaine Goodman of Andover and Arlene Epstein of North Tewksbury.

Refreshments will be served throughout the evening. The Health Club will be available to those attending.

Club To Tour Conservation Properties

The Appalachian Mountain Club, led by Dorothy and Jim Christopher, will walk over the conservation land of Bessie Goldsmith at Foster's Pond Sunday, rain or shine.

The public is invited to meet at the west side of South Main Street, (Route 28), between Route 125 and County Road, at 1:30 p.m. The white gate is the meeting place landmark.

Further information is available from Chairman Jim Christopher or Subchairman Louise Van Everen.

Future AMC walks will be Dec. 7 at Deer Jump Reservation and Jan. 18 through the Doyle Loop.

The North Parish Church, 190 Academy Road, North Andover, was organized in 1645 as the First Church in Andover. It still uses a bell cast by Paul Revere in 1806.

Women's Tennis Tourney

A Doubles Tennis Tournament for women featured the first half of the ten week Fall Term of the Andover-North Andover YMCA. The single elimination competition was scheduled at the Pearson Farm Courts of Phillips Academy under chairman Peg Hughes and Physical Director Janet Mead. The winning team of Sara Gilbert and Michael Sandler took the finals defeating Valerie Angeloro and Maria Smith 6-1 and 7-6. Linda Vassil and Candace Scottow took third place in a consolation match.

Sandler - Gilbert defeated Shirley Boucher and Marge Stein in the quarter - finals and Peg Hughes and Joan Mularz in the semi-finals on the way to the final round. Smith - Angeloro defeated Vassil - Scottow in the semi-finals and Sheila Coskren and Gerry Foulds in the quarter - finals.

Student Ski Trips Planned

The Recreation / Community Schools Department will be sponsoring five student ski trips for Andover students in grades 9-12 during the winter months.

The first trip will be a day trip to Cannon Mountain on Tuesday, Dec. 30.

The second trip will be an overnight with skiing at Cannon Mountain and Waterville Valley on Jan. 17 and 18.

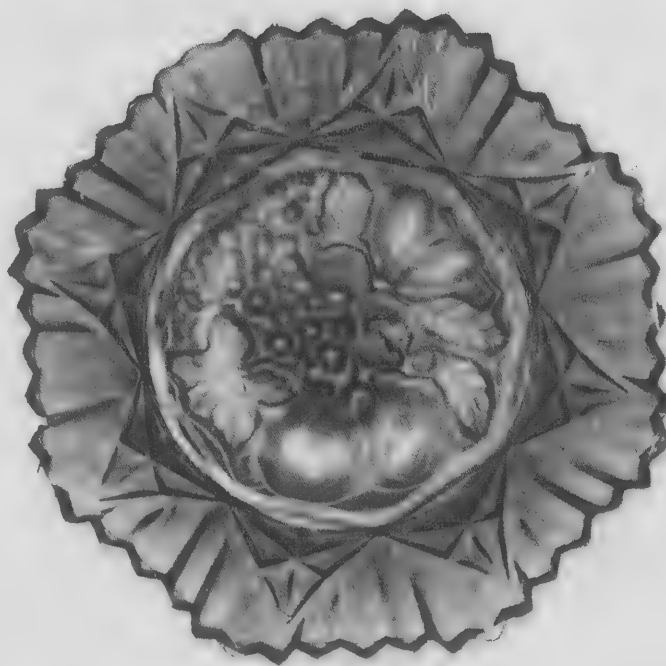

A deposit for either trip must be paid before Thursday, Dec. 18.

Seats are limited and buses will be filled on a first come first serve basis.

Persons interested in going on either trip can obtain more information in the high school or by calling the Recreation / Community Schools Department.

Phillips Academy's Bell Tower sits on the old training field, where many distinguished guests were welcomed, including Presidents Washington, Jackson and Coolidge, and the Marquis de Lafayette.

Dr. Neiman Breakfast Speaker

Dr. David Neiman, associate professor of theology at Boston College will be the featured guest speaker at a forthcoming "Breakfast and Lecture" forum to be held at Temple Emanuel, Lawrence.

According to the Adult Education Committee of the Temple who sponsors this Sunday morning lecture series, Dr. Neiman's appearance in Lawrence, Sunday morning, Nov. 23, will be a major event for the area Jewish community.

A renowned authority on the History Of Religions, Professor Neiman has gained a reputation for pioneering in the field of Christian - Jewish relations, past and present. He has taken an active part in bringing greater understanding to this subject ever since he organized the Boston College Institute of Archaeology in 1968.

An ordained rabbi, Dr. Neiman was a visiting professor of Jewish theology at the 416 year old Pontifical Gregorian University in Rome, the first Jewish academician to be thus honored.

The topic of Prof. Neiman's lecture and discussion for this Sunday morning "breakfast and Lecture" series which starts at 10 a.m. on Nov. 23 will be: "Judaism and Christianity". The forum will be open to the public, however advance reservations must be made with the office of Temple Emanuel in Lawrence ahead of time. Program arrangements are in the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Edelstein and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wertheimer and Jon Maren, all of Andover.

Class To Observe Anniversary

The Margaret Slattery Class of Free Christian Church, has completed plans for their 60th anniversary observance to be held Saturday, Nov. 15 at 6 p.m.

The banquet will be followed by entertainment featuring the "Sweet Adelines" of Lynn, a Ladies Barbershop concert group consisting of 35 voices.

The class was formed in 1915 through the efforts of Miss Jennie Hinchcliff, who continued as leader and teacher until her death.

Invitations have been sent to all former members of the class and many have indicated they are planning to attend. Among those attending will be five charter members, who will be honored at a reception in the church parlor immediately following the banquet.

During the program, a history of the class will be read and comments will be delivered by Rev. and Mrs. Richard B. Balmforth.

On Sunday, Nov. 16, present and former members will attend a church meeting at 10:25 a.m.

Roast Beef Buffet Set

Ballard Vale United Church will host the annual candlelight roast beef buffet on Saturday, Nov. 15 at both 5 and 7 p.m. Featuring roast beef the menu will also offer a turkey-rice casserole, hot vegetables, molded salads, homemade rolls, beverage and assorted dessert pastries.

Co-chairmen Mary Spooner and Ruth Mettheson are professionally engaged in dietetics and food service giving an expertize to quality and quantity. However, they recommend for those who want guaranteed seating, reservations be made with Mrs. Russell Hall, 7 Hall Ave. A limited number of tickets will be sold at the door to accommodate a maximum of 150 for each sitting.

Arnold Itz will act as head waiter. Judy Webb and Patricia Butler are in charge of decorations.

The roast beef buffet has been traditionally associated with the fall fair. In recent years the buffet has been served one week later to allow both the congregation and the public to participate in both with a great deal more ease. This pleasant, bountiful and delicious meal will be served in fellowship hall in the church located at the corner of Hall and Clark in Andover.

Test Scores Explained To PTO

The Doherty School PTO held a dessert - coffee last Tuesday evening to acquaint new members with the various functions of the PTO. Lois Haslam, principal, gave a presentation of the standardized test results, after which refreshments were served and a tour of the building was made.

Other PTO functions during the year include: A Science Workshop in December, the Fathers' Breakfasts in January, the Skating Party in February, the Potluck Supper and the Bookmobile in March, Specialists' Night on May 12 and the Doherty Fair on June 12.

Further information will be forthcoming. Anyone interested in more information about the Doherty PTO should contact Judy Kirkland.

Memorial Tower at Phillips Academy has a carillon of 37 bells and it rings Westminster chimes for the clock.

TRUTH MADE HER FREE.

An understanding of God, Truth, freed an Indiana woman from an infected lung, arthritis, and confinement to a wheelchair. It changed her whole life.

But this is not why she came to Christian Science in the first place. It was her hunger for an understanding of God.

If you are searching for the joyous freedom that comes from knowing God's presence in your life, come to our service this Wednesday evening. You will hear people like yourself testify to the power of God, Truth, in their own experience.

Interfaith Thanksgiving Service

An Interfaith Service of Thanksgiving will be held in Andover on Wednesday evening, Nov. 26 at 7:30 p.m. at South Church.

The guest preacher will be Rabbi Harry A. Roth of Temple Emanuel. His sermon will center on the theme, "If We Only Have Love."

Music for the service will be provided by an interfaith choir under the direction of Keith Gould, director of music at South Church.

Any person interested in singing in the choir is asked to contact him concerning the music that will be used. This service is being coordinated by the members of the Andover Clergy Association.

Book Review Planned For Hadassah

Freda Schlesinger of Boston, a member of the National Board of Hadassah, will be the featured speaker at the meeting of the Greater Lawrence Chapter of Hadassah on Tuesday, Nov. 18.

The meeting will be held from 12:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Edward Tober, 121 Hidden Road, Andover.

Mrs. Schlesinger, who will review several current books, lived in Israel for 11 years and has traveled throughout the world. She had led many tours to Israel.

She is a past president of the Boston Chapter of Hadassah and the New England Region of Hadassah.

Christmas School At Church

Parents of four and five year old children are invited to enroll their youngsters in the Christmas School which will be held at Faith Church, Andover, Dec. 1 to Dec. 5. Children will learn through lesson, song, and projects the true meaning of the Christmas event.

As enrollment is limited to the first fifty youngsters registration should be made as soon as possible. Registration forms are available at all church offices in the area or by contacting the school secretary, Mrs. Karl Seaburg, 186 Boston Road, North Andover.

Salient Thoughts On The Procedure

While some may be disturbed that there will be no pilot program on the traditional school, there were some comments made during discussion of initiating such a program which we feel particularly salient.

The program has the full endorsement of the school committee and will be initiated on a full scale basis in September, following a lengthy period of preparation - allowing sufficient time to plan the program well and avail parents an opportunity to assess whether or not they wish to enroll their child in such a plan.

Out of the lengthy discussion which surrounded support of the program to begin in September and scrap a pilot program to begin in January, came comments from two people we think were quite to the point.

First, Dr. Harry Wescott, associate superintendent of schools, asked that the public be trustworthy of the administration and school committee in going forward. Some faith and understanding were needed, he emphasized, rather than adverse criticism at every turn by school administrators in attempting to work out a program.

Secondly, Committeeman Robert B. McIntyre said, and we agree wholeheartedly, "anything worth doing at all, is worth doing well," and there would be insufficient time to adequately plan a program for a January beginning.

The unanimous endorsement of initiation of a traditional school program by the school committee, should be sufficient to satisfy proponents of such, that the administration will go forward with its implementation.

But, in light of controversial school matters in the past few years, there are those who have doubts.

We believe that committee endorsement and direction to the administration to proceed with the planning, should be sufficient to guarantee that there will be a traditional school program in September.

As for those who allege the administration is determined to work toward scuttling the program, we see no evidence of it, but rather a working toward carrying out the mandate of the school committee.

It has taken considerable time to get this far in the determination of the desire for such a program, and there is suspicion raised by some on the time schedule and the taking of a survey.

But the program is set to go forward, and as Mr. McIntyre states, if worth doing, it should be done well, and a January implementation does not provide for a proper start, even in a pilot program.

It has been suggested that two classrooms be used at the West school. This would permit parents to view a traditional classroom and also allow a view of the town's current program.

Subjecting youngsters to a goldfish bowl approach to a decent education, to our way of thinking, is doing a disservice to the youngster.

For too long Andover's public education system has been subject to the dangerous measure of comparisons. Such practice is often used for political advantage, or used to supply figure filberts with advantageous propaganda.

If, as opponents of the open concept have demanded, an end be put to experimentation in the public schools, why initiate further trials through a pilot program on the traditional mode?

We view the procedure as established by the school committee, of initiating a traditional program in September, as being the most logical step.

It allows for proper and adequate planning to permit a program to get under way in the best possible manner.

Understanding in the efforts of the administration and school committee in the months ahead, and believing that they are working toward the desired goal, will also insure that the program will have a proper start.

Viewpoint

Tenure - The Curious Phenomenon

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles by Mr. Fitzgerald, a former Andover school committeeman, focusing on problems in public education and how local issues are reflective of problems in the field in a national level.

By Frederick P. Fitzgerald

A prophet has written "It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than it is to remove a tenured teacher or administrator from a position in the public school system in Massachusetts." We don't know the ancient soothsayer but we do know that his shaft hits close to the mark. The teacher who gets tenure at the end of a specified period of continuous employment - 25 months to 3 years in Andover - in a particular school system finds himself in the heady position of being assured of a job until retirement age barring some unspeakable misconduct on his or her part. It is an atmosphere in which the harsh judgments of the marketplace seem pleasantly remote, and the prospect of being unceremoniously sacked is one of life's minor concerns.

We should look at this curious phenomenon called tenure because many of our citizens are becoming uneasy about it; because California - a bellwether state in these matters - has made some significant changes in its tenure laws; and because, in common with marriage, there is nothing quite like it. Also, as with death and taxes it is not totally without merit.

There is much to be said for guaranteed employment - some unions have it in the form of a guaranteed annual wage. Teachers, probably need to be buffered against the whimsy of school administrators, school supervisors, school committees and vengeful politicians. Education, with its intellectual demands needs some protection from the gnawing uncertainty of employment in the hurly-burly private sector, and needs freedom for the contemplative and reelective life of the intellect which is the heart of the educational process. However some of our taxpayers who cope 48 plus weeks per year with the gnawing uncertainty of employment in hurly-burly private sector, or with the harsh judgments of the marketplace asking "How much is enough" or more to the point "How much is too much."

Any teacher who enters a public school system in Massachusetts and works a year or any part thereof (in Andover it may be one month - sic.) may have his name presented to the school committee at a time certain, set by law, for re-appointment - called re-election - to the staff. If he works another academic year and his performance satisfies his supervisors, his name may be presented to the school committee for a second re-election to the staff. On completion of another satisfactory year he may then be recommended for tenure in a particular system - note, however, that a teacher cannot carry tenure with him to another system. If the fates and his immediate supervisor, or supervisors, and the school committee are willing and he is elected to tenure he can safely feel that he is "home."

From this point on it will be a tough, fearless, tenacious administrator or school committee that will try to remove him. Depending on his academic credentials and his willingness to further his education in his field - the cost of which, in Andover is paid by the town, - he will then begin to move along his appropriate "track" getting yearly raises spelled out in, and guaranteed by, the general teacher contract. These raises spelled out in, and guaranteed by, the general teacher contract. These raises will be above and beyond the raises which the Education Association can negotiate with the school committee. The yearly increases will be nominal, but, barring failure to meet certain requirements, will be assured.

The Regan case, not surprisingly, bore in obliquely on the tenure issue as well as many others. Without discussing the case in detail we can explore the general questions which the committee's action raised. We noted in the foregoing that a teacher's election to tenure depended on the concurrence of several individuals, notably the teacher's immediate supervisor (probably his principal), the school superintendent, and finally the school committee. There are many pitfalls and snares along the way and for a variety of reasons a teacher may not be recommended for re-election by his principal, or if he is recommended by his principal the superintendent may not think him worthy. Even if he hurdles these barriers the committee may deny him tenure, all in accordance with the statutes. Given the foregoing, what can happen, and does happen is that the professionals in the system feel that a teacher or administrator is worthy of tenure but the school does not. At this point it's "bombs away" and the heavy shells begin to explode.

To deny a teacher tenure at the end of the probationary period is to deal him and his career a heavy blow. It is, in some respects, similar to the censure of an attorney or the suspension of a physician's license to practice. Tenure is the sort of thing which should not be given or denied lightly, but mortals being what they are, there is no guarantee against this eventuality. If a teacher is denied tenure he may experience difficulty in landing another post. Clearly if a system denies him tenure it raises questions about his fitness; and there is also an ethical question about what sort of recommendation a system can give a teacher to which it has denied tenure. What is true of a teacher seeking tenure is also true of an administrator seeking tenure at a higher level in his

Shakeup's Aftermath

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — President Ford is keeping his list of potential vice presidential running mates wide open, say White House sources, as a way of forcing potential rivals to behave.

Even Ronald Reagan will have to soft-pedal his pitch, Ford believes, as long as the number two spot on the Republican ticket is dangling in front of him.

The vacancy was created, of course, when Vice President Nelson Rockefeller served notice he did not want to run with Ford in 1976.

Although the President was pleased with Rockefeller's promise to step down, say insiders, Ford did not ask for it. Rockefeller made the decision on his own.

The Vice President has long been complaining to confidants about his insignificant role in the Administration.

He came to Washington in anticipation that his executive ability, wealth and reputation would give him a clout few Vice Presidents have enjoyed. Instead, he found himself running such side shows as the CIA investigation.

He was left out of the policy-making channels. Even when he attended policy meetings, he found himself more of a spectator than a participant. This was the principle reason he decided to surrender the vice presidency.

The dust is still settling, meanwhile, around the "Second Saturday Night Massacre," which came at the time Rockefeller bowed out.

The real reasons for the abrupt dismissal of Defense Secretary James Schlesinger and CIA Director William Colby, it turns out, were obscured by misleading press reports.

Most of the stories centered on the celebrated feud between Schlesinger and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. Schlesinger's sacking was interpreted as a Kissinger victory.

Actually, Kissinger emerged from the scramble in a much weaker position. He has been replaced as head of the National Security Council, for example, by his former aide, Lt. Gen. Brent Scowcroft. Scowcroft is a loyal soldier who was obedient to Kissinger as long as he worked for him. Now, however, Scowcroft will be reporting directly to the President, while Kissinger has been removed from the daily routine at the White House.

Some observers speculated, moreover, that President Ford named his staff chief, Donald Rumsfeld, as the new Defense Secretary to give him exposure so he could be picked as Ford's running-mate in 1976.

The truth is, President Ford has had Rumsfeld's appointment in mind for some time. We reported on October 8, 1974, that the President would dump

Schlesinger and "send the able Rumsfeld to preside over the Pentagon."

Strategy Sessions: President Ford has already tried out his campaign theme for the 1976 election. In his speeches around the nation he has been hitting big government and big spending.

In Washington's backrooms, the Democrats have been quietly talking about their own campaign themes. No matter who carries their banner, they will rely, of course, on the traditional economic issues. But the consensus is that the Democrats cannot ignore the public mood against big government. The issue has been a potent one in the past for George Wallace. And the Democrats can ill afford to let the Republicans exploit the issue.

So they are talking about hopping on the anti-bureaucrat bandwagon themselves. They are thinking of setting up a special Congressional Committee to hold hearings about the growth of government. In other words, they are hoping to steal the "Big Government" issue out from under President Ford.

Protective Measures: Turkish diplomats all over the world have gone into virtual hiding since two of their country's ambassadors were recently murdered in Vienna and Paris. A massive investigation into the slayings is underway, but so far the authorities have come up empty handed.

There are, however, several theories under consideration. Some investigators think the murders were the work of right-wing Greek Cypriots; others believe Armenians were responsible. The newest theory, now being discussed in the United States, is that Cypriot Communists murdered the Turkish diplomats as a way of thwarting the Cyprus negotiations.

In Washington, meanwhile, the Turkish embassy has complained sharply that their security is insufficient. The Secret Service, as a result, beefed up Turkey's protective detail. Turkey's ambassador to the United States, Melih Esenbel, severely limited his public appearances and cancelled a number of engagements he had already scheduled. Guests and visitors at the embassy are being scrutinized carefully.

Mail at the embassy is being monitored for letter bombs. There have been persistent rumors, furthermore, that explosive devices have been found at the embassy. Our investigation, however, has turned up no evidence to support these stories. The last attempt to bomb the Turkish embassy, according to our sources, came on July 25, 1974, when an unexploded fire bomb was discovered and dismantled.

For Richard: Robert Payne, the best-selling biographer and historian, has written a new book called "The Corrupt Society," a study of political corruption through the ages. Payne has solemnly dedicated his book to former President Richard M. Nixon because "it was through a study of his works...that I first became aware that corruption had settled deeply in America." Nixon, wrote Payne, was not "the worst of corrupters" but was "certainly among the most successful."

Prison Censor: The girlie magazine "Hustler" has been banned from the federal penitentiary in Atlanta. Warden H.H. McKernan told us he is fairly lenient about permitting his inmates to receive "skin" magazines. But "Hustler," he said, is in "extremely poor taste."

Parade To Be Highlight

One of the highlights of Andover's celebration of the Bicentennial will be a parade such as the Town has never before seen. The date to remember is Sunday, May 9, 1976 and the time 1:30 p.m. According to Sidney P. White, Parade Coordinator, plans are now rolling.

Any of Andover's companies, organizations, schools, churches, banks, etc., interested in entering a float should contact Prof. James J. St. Germain, 4 Cyr Circle. If the interest is in a marching unit the person to contact is David MacDonald, Jr., 81 Chestnut St.

Program On Living Christmas Trees

Massachusetts Audubon Society's Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary on Perkins Row in Topsfield is planning a special family program about living Christmas trees on Sunday, Nov. 16, from 2 to 4. A living evergreen tree can be brought inside, decorated and enjoyed as a living Christmas tree and then returned to the outdoors.

Space is limited so prior registration is required. There is a small fee per family. The group will meet at the Sanctuary to go by car convoy to a Christmas Tree Farm. For reservations, contact the Sanctuary office.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago - November, 1900

It is reported that a Peabody concern is interested in locating in the mills in Ballardvale. They will take over the former hat factory for the manufacture of electrical goods and thermometers.

New concrete crossings have been placed from High street to Elm to the Musgrove across Post Office Court to Valpey's and from Valpey's to Gleason's corner. M. M. Chase has done this work along with placing a concrete gutter across East Chestnut street.

Chin Wing, the laundryman on Main street, who has been absent on a trip to China for several months, has just returned. He is bitterly opposed to the Boxer element in China.

The selectmen of Andover and North Andover met Wednesday and spent the day perambulating the bounds.

Family Service Group Plans Session

The Family Service Association of Greater Lawrence, one of the area's oldest social agencies, will hold its 116th annual meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 19 at the Merrimack Valley Motor Inn.

Patrick V. Riley, executive director of Greater Boston Family Service, will be the speaker of the evening. Mr. Riley will discuss the current services that Family Service can and should bring to a community such as Lawrence.

In his address, Mr. Riley will stress to the friends and supporters of Greater Lawrence Family Service the three main needs to which he sees the agency should direct its energies. According to Mr. Riley, individual, family and group counseling in times of personal or family crisis is the first task of the agency. Counseling should be complemented by life education programs related to normal family life, dealing with problems all families face: marital conflicts, adolescence, discipline, retirement, etc. These goals, supplemented by strong advocacy efforts directed toward changing social conditions and institutions that are detrimental to healthy family function, will form the basis of Mr. Riley's keynote address.

Mr. Riley graduated from Northwestern University and holds a master's degree from the University of Chicago School of Social Service Administration. He has long been associated with Family Service both on the national level as assistant general director and regional director, as well as on the local level as executive director of the Stockton and Pasadena, California agencies. He is a member of the National Association of Social Workers, the Academy of Certified Social Workers, and is licensed as a marriage and family counselor in New Jersey.

Greater Lawrence Family Service, one of 300 member Family Service agencies, last year served more than 650 families who live or work in Lawrence, Methuen, Andover and North Andover. As an agency of the Merrimack Valley United Fund, Family Service is supported primarily through voluntary contributions. In its long history, the agency (known in its early days as the Lawrence Provident Society, and subsequently as the City Mission Society) has evolved from distributing financial aid to families in the 1800's to bringing social services geared to the special needs and concerns of families of the 1970's.

Hay Scales Plans Christmas Sale

The 22nd annual Christmas Sale of the Hay Scales Exchange will be held Tuesday, Nov. 18 and Wednesday, Nov. 19. The large barn of the North Andover Country Club on Great Pond Road and the shop in the North Andover Centre will be open from 10 to 5 on Tuesday and from 10 to 2 on Wednesday.

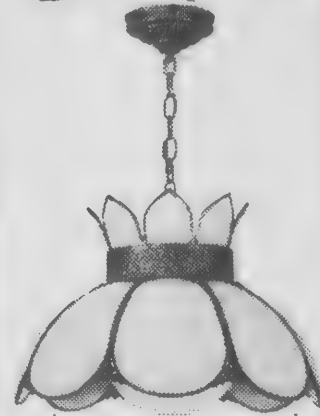

The Exchange, open year round except for two weeks in July, is a non-profit organization whose primary purpose is to provide a market place for the sale of consigned handcrafts and home prepared food. A special committee carefully guides the consignor so that the workmanship and design of the items will be of the highest quality. Seventy-five per cent of the selling price is returned to the consignor while the remaining twenty-five per cent is used by the Exchange to help maintain the shop.

Among the impressive articles at this year's sale will be: hand painted decorative accessories, boutique wastebaskets and lampshades, original infants and children's clothing, hand-knit sweaters, mittens and hats, handsome Christmas decorations, culinary novelties and casseroles, and gifts of special excellence.

Mrs. Thomas J. Lamson, president of Hay Scales, Mrs. Joseph R. Rokous, chairman of the sale, Mrs. Charles H. Turner, III, co-chairman, and others working on the festive event are Mesdames Charles A. Salisbury and Melvin L. Weiner, cocktail party; John J. Good and Charles R. Rudd, snack bar; Peter T. Worthen, volunteers; David W. Hepworth, moving; Edwin B. Hansen, Jr., decorations; and John M. Mrs. Charles W. Lanagan, Jr.

Lanagan - Bracken

Miss Joan Mary Bracken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Bracken, 7 Sequoia Lane, Andover, became the bride October 18, of Charles William Lanagan, Jr. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lanagan of West Roxbury.

The Rev. Leonard Gownley, C.P., officiated at the 11 o'clock nuptial Mass at St. Augustine's Church, Andover, assisted by the Rev. Edward G. Robinson, O.S.A., pastor.

The Boston Archdiocesan Choir, under the direction of Theodore Marier, provided nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire-style gown of ivory imported English net, reembroidered with ivory Alencon and Venice lace and pearls. It featured a duchess neckline and long, fitted sleeves and the skirt and chapel train were bordered and scattered with lace detailing. The fingertip veil of ivory illusion, bordered with Alencon lace, was caught mantilla-style to a cap of matching lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Maureen Bracken of Andover attended her sister as maid of honor, and bridesmaids included Miss Sallie Lanagan of Boston, the groom's sister, and Miss Mary Lavin of Belmont and Mrs. Lorraine Reed of Palo Alto, Calif., cousins of the bride.

They wore matching, long-sleeved gowns of dusty rose tulle, and carried colonial bouquets of pink sweetheart roses, pink carnations, white pom-poms and baby's breath. Blue statice accented the bouquet of the maid of honor.

Mrs. Bracken chose a long-sleeved, coffee-color gown, with rhinestone-sprinkled bodice, for her daughter's wedding and a corsage of yellow cymbidium orchids.

The groom's mother wore a long-sleeved gown of pink chiffon, and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

Thomas J. Lanagan of Dedham was his brother's best man, and ushers included Paul Bracken, Jr., the brother of the bride; Edward Hines of Lexington and

Sisterhood To Hold Auction

The 2nd Annual Sisterhood Service Auction will be held on Saturday evening, Nov. 15, at 8:30 p.m. at Temple Emmanuel, Lawrence. Professional auctioneer Ken Harkens of Lowell will auction off dozens of services and items including a capsule charm course, Italian cooking lessons, blintzes made to order, tickets to the Bruins, tickets to the Celtics, rides to ski resorts, lots of varied ski items, objets d'art, lessons in how to make blintzes and a get away weekend for two at the Newton Marriott Motor Inn.

The committee, under the direction of the Chairperson Sheila Goldstein, consists of Jane Weiner, Marilyn Faigel, Naomi Gardner, Anne Goldstein, Janet Kovner, Jarjorie Cypress, Judy Caplan, Sally Factor, Ellie Lustig, Phyllis Wagman, Marjorie Starensier, Maida Eisenberg, Liz Shulman, Anita Karas, Helene Gack and Natalie Sherman, Publicity. Shirley Levinson is the advisor.

For further information, please call Sheila Goldstein, 17 Bateson Drive, Andover.

Studying In Spain

Eleanor L. Harris, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Edward M. Harris of South Main St., Andover, a senior at the University of New Hampshire, is attending the University of Valencia, Spain, for the first semester as part of her undergraduate work majoring in Spanish language and literature.

John Lyons of Scituate, brothers-in-law of the groom; and Kevin Ridge of West Roxbury and Joseph Toomey of Brighton.

The new Mrs. Lanagan is a graduate of Regis College in Weston and her husband, of Boston College. Both are presently working toward master's degrees at Boston State College, and both teach in the Boston Public Schools.

Following a reception at the Andover Country Club, the couple took a wedding trip to Nantucket. They are presently at home in Milton.

The public is invited to attend the meeting to be held on Thursday, Nov. 20, at 8 p.m. in Room 302 of Gildea Hall (the Student Activities Center) at Merrimack College. Nonny Wilson, a social worker at St. Anne's and a mother of one adopted child and one foster child, will talk about life at the Home, which specializes in caring for children with special needs. These children include autistic, emotionally disturbed, and permanent foster care cases. Information on volunteer work will be provided.

For further information on this meeting and A.A.U.W. contact Mrs. Robert Richmond of Andover, Mrs. Robert Gatti of Lowell, or Mrs. John Woodward of West Boxford.

Future A.A.U.W. programs include a holiday tea with a boutique and silent auction; a discussion of the energy crunch; a program on Women and the law; an evening with visitors from foreign countries explaining their "culture shock;" and a program on The Future - The 21st Century.

Our Shores Are Bridges In Bicentennial Spirit

The Bicentennial spirit bridged the nation this past week, when students and teachers from California visited the Shawsheen school, in an exchange program. Above, Karen Tack, left, and Pam Pollak, students at Jean Thorman School in Tustin, Calif., with a Shawsheen Indian statue. Below, Shirley Saunders, teacher, checks program with Miss Isabelle M. Dobbie, Shawsheen principal.

In College Exchange

Joanne M. Doherty, a member of the class of 1977 at Wheaton College, is attending Wellesley College during the 1975-1976 academic year. Joanne is a participant in the 12 College Exchange Program which allows students at participating colleges to spend the junior year at one of the other Exchange Program colleges. Besides Wellesley and Wheaton, other members of the 12 college group include Amherst, Bowdoin, Connecticut College, Dartmouth, Mt. Holyoke, Smith, Trinity, Vassar, Bowdoin and Williams. Joanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Doherty of 9 Juniper Road, Andover.

By Linda S. Corbett
East is East and West is West, but the twain met successfully here Monday, on a brand new summit level.

Two young diplomats from Tustin, California, accompanied by two teachers, charmed an assembly at Shawsheen School, then spent the rest of the day taking a look at what youngsters in faraway New England do in school.

Their visit is part of a Bicentennial exchange between the Jean Thorman School in Tustin and Shawsheen School here.

Fifth grader Karyn Tack and fourth grader Pamela Pollak came about as far as they could in the Continental United States, flying kitty-corner from Southern California to Boston, bringing with them some mementoes of their area; Pacific sea water, abalone shells, a bottle of water from the moat of Sleeping Beauty's Castle in Disneyland, gold dust in a bottle, a redwood tree to plant, a box of oranges, artichokes, lemons, avocados, pomegranates, a case of boysenberry jam from Knott's Berry Farm, autographed pictures of Bob Newhart, Joan Rivers and Carol Burnett, books about California and their school, and greetings from each grade at the Thorman School, to each unit at Shawsheen.

They also gave Shawsheen a State of California flag, which has hung over their State Legislature. It was presented to the Tustin delegation by their state assemblyman, to bring along with them.

The Bicentennial exchange was the brainchild of former Shawsheen teacher / pupil Connie Becotte, who graduated from Andover High in 1961 and went on to become, as Mrs. Constance Donaldson, president of the parent-teacher organization at Thorman.

She first contacted High School Principal Philip Wormwood, who was once her teacher, with her idea. He referred her on to Miss Isabel Dobbie, principal at Shawsheen. Miss Dobbie and the Tustin principal, Richard Lin-court, have been working out the details.

Accompanying the California youngsters were Mrs. Shirley Saunders, a third grade teacher originally from Michigan, and Mrs. Jane Miller, a fourth grade teacher.

Mrs. Saunders said Monday it was "neat to be here where everything started."

She said this area was "seeping with history," and that it must make it easier for youngsters to understand their heritage. American history passed on to California school children is more artificial, she said, because they're so far away from where it all began. California history, she said, is so much more involved with the Spanish, and is much "newer."

After the delegation arrived Sunday, they were taken on a tour of Plimouth Plantation by Miss Barbara Young, a Unit B teacher at Shawsheen, and spent the night with Ms. Bette Ann LeForte, also of Unit B, in Hampton, N.H.

Tuesday they were to walk the Freedom Trail and visit Concord and Lexington, and then return to California yesterday. Monday night Karyn and Pamela had dinner at the home of the Frederick Grahams on Arundel Street. Three Graham youngsters - Jacquelyn, Ricky and Connie - attend Shawsheen School.

Mrs. Saunders, who went to a grade school in Michigan that looked like Shawsheen on the outside, called the latter a "fantastic school," and said she couldn't believe the renovations.

Their three-year-old Jean Thorman School is of the open classroom style, with as many as three classes meeting in one large room, and portable panels as needed for partitions.

The school is carpeted, she said, and has no windows. Instead, there are bulletin boards, floor to ceiling.

The elementary schools have no cafeterias, she went on, and the youngsters eat their lunches outside at tables set up for that purpose. When it rains (only 14 inches a year) or if it's too hot, they eat at their desks.

Thorman Elementary School is also connected by a common administrative wing, to Curry Junior High School. The two share a multi-purpose room, offices, and the like.

The multi-purpose room contains a unique indoor-outdoor stage, with a roll-up wall between them, so the audience can sit inside or outside, depending on the weather.

ding on the production and the weather.

In addition, junior high students are used as aides in the elementary classrooms, and are graded on their efforts.

Miss Dobbie added that there seemed to be many similarities between the two schools as well. For instance, she said, Tustin upper grades also take an outdoor education trip. While Andover sixth graders go to Maine, however, theirs go to the San Bernadino Mountains.

They also take field trips, to such places as Disneyland, the Los Angeles Aquarium, the San Diego Zoo and Knott's Berry Farm.

Mrs. Saunders further described Tustin as a small town, "born" in 1927 (Andover was founded in 1646). She said it served as a bedroom community for commuters to nearby Santa Ana, Anaheim, Newport and Los Angeles. There is little industry.

In fact, she said, the town not long ago was orange orchards, that gave way to houses, freeways and taco stands.

"It's nice to have a sister school," she concluded, and Tustin will soon have a taste of what Andover's all about too.

At Monday's assembly, Town Manager J. Maynard Austin accepted a Tustin plaque for the Board of Selectmen, then presented the visitors with Andover Bicentennial pins. They also will receive the Bicentennial Flag which has been hanging at Shawsheen School, Shawsheen banners, New England plaques, copies of the Shawsheen PTO Cookbook, at AVIS map, hockey pucks from Converse, and such.

Later on, they will also be receiving a slide tape of their visit to Andover pupils and, Mrs. Saunders hopes, someday a visit from some of their Andover hosts.

day, Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m. Spencer Tracy and Robert Young star in this action adventure based on Kenneth Roberts' novel about the French and Indian war. The film was directed by King Vidor.

Graphics Display

During the month of November the graphics of Joffre LeFevre are on display at the library. Mr. LeFevre has won several awards for his work including first award for painting in the Unitarian - Universalist Church Art Show, Andover in 1973 and at the same show in 1974 he won a first award in graphics.

Vietnamese Materials

Memorial Hall Library has recently acquired various materials to aid Vietnamese refugees in learning English and in becoming acquainted with American customs. Now available are dictionaries, pamphlets and newsletters from "Operation New Arrivals" at Camp Pendleton. We also have a record for non-English speakers to learn English, as well as a learn-Vietnamese record for those interested in studying the language.

Library Opera Club To Meet

The Library Opera Club will meet on Thursday, Nov. 13 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Fran McCormick, 4 Elysian Drive, Andover. The opera to be studied will be Tannhauser by Richard Wagner.

Book Review Group 2

This group is reading books written about women, emphasizing the different roles that women play and women's adjustment to their roles. The next book to be reviewed is Christina Stead's The Man Who Loved Children. It will be the subject of discussion on Tuesday, Nov. 18 at 10 a.m.

American Issues Forum

The third program in the American Issues Forum Series will be held at the North Parish Church in North Andover on Monday, Nov. 24 at 8 p.m. The November theme is Certain Unalienable Rights and the speakers for this meeting will be Norman Nathan, news commentator and anchorman at WEEI and Norma Nathan, reporter for the Lawrence Eagle Tribune.

Conservationist To Speak

There will be a talk by Scott Nearing, conservationist and farmer, at the library on Tuesday, Nov. 25 at 8 p.m. His farm in Maine is a spot where many ecologists visit to view the vegetable gardens and orchards, all grown without commercial fertilizers. The topic will be: U.S.A. - Problems and Prospects.

Children's Room News

By Ruth Hooten

The week of Nov. 17-22 is National Book Week and the children's Room is planning a special display - What's New In Children's Books. We have been holding back all the new titles received in the last few months in preparation for this look at new books.

After you look at the display, cast a vote in our latest poll asking the question "What is your favorite book? Who is your favorite author?". The vote was unanimous in our last poll on how people felt about the painting Lion Light. The opinions ranged from "bee-u-tiful" to "I like it but there is no such thing as a dragon" but the general opinion is that the painting is liked by one and all.

Films on Fridays continue at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Our Nov. 14 program will feature Little Girl and The Gunniwolf, Ali Baba and Frederick. Nov. 21 program will be Georgie To The Rescue, Night's Nice and Madeline. These movies are for pre-school children accompanied by parent.

Brilliant Piano Recital In Andover

By Kimberly Sue Allison

Phillips Academy was host Saturday night to what proved to be one of the finest artists on the concert stage in this country today.

The occasion was the Bicentennial Piano Recital of Joseph Schwartz, in George Washington Hall and was a performance unequalled in recent years anywhere around, to at least one pair of ears.

Schwartz, since 1960 a professor of Piano at Oberlin Conservatory of Music, showed supreme confidence in a big, demanding program that would tax even the finest technique and came through with a performance to dazzle any audience.

Beginning the program with the Mozart Fantasia, K475 and Sonata K457, both in C Minor made a perfect grouping and were marked with clarity, coupled with a caressingly elegant tone, flawless running passages, sudden, mood changes, clearly conveying the profound yet simple genius of Mozart.

By contrast, the Copland Variations displayed a deep sense of musicality with brusque, brittle, percussive momentum interwoven with short moments of a more sombre quietness. Here Schwartz had the problem of convincing the audience of Copland's message, and his persuasive interpretation did the trick.

Moving along the program to L'Union made perfect sense, with its familiar themes. This is a real crash-bang piece, demanding quick movements and prodigious technique and, although not played often, is well worth the listener's time.

As though the demands of the foregoing portion of the program had not been enough, following a brief intermission, Schwartz plunged right into no less than 12 of the most difficult Chopin Etudes, with clear concepts, razor-sharp control even on the most bravura passages, achieving big, deep sounds without banging and pounding. The first Etude of Opus 10 with its clearly shaped phrases, was winningly satisfying in its delivery. The second Etude, which is the hardest one of all, had the feathery, light, yet rich sounds, once again displaying the keyboard agility which is Schwartz' middle name. The third Etude, one of the most beloved with its rich color combinations and chromatic sixth passages, is so frequently exploited to show off technique, was beautifully executed with "just the right amount of timing" throughout. The fourth Etude, another physically exhausting work, was performed with great authority and excitement. The fifth Etude, one of the most popular, was delivered with a marvelous sense of clarity and overall shape. The poetry of the sixth Etude was conveyed by Schwartz' most limpid tone, always moving and never a sense of dullness or disinterest. The audience seemed spellbound and nearly unable to cope with what they were hearing. These Etudes gave a perfect outlet to display the enormous range of this man's talent.

The seventh Etude, with its exhaustive right hand movement from 3rd to 6th intervals was tossed off with ease and was musically cohesive in its concept. The eleventh was one of the most beautiful of all the Etudes with its ringing top tones and perfectly controlled timing of each rolled chord. The stretches of each chord challenge any pair of hands, but obviously Schwartz has solved every problem. The twelfth Etude, which rounds out the Opus, gave the left hand it's opportunity, and showed fire and brilliance at its peak.

It was delightful to hear Debussy's "Reflet dan l'eau" with such a glistening, liquid rendition. Following all of this, Schwartz gave an astounding performance of Chopin's Scherzo in C Sharp Minor, a major work on any evenings performance, with scintillating runs and enormous buildup to the virtuoso finale.

This soft-spoken, somewhat shy man becomes a master of his instrument the moment he is seated at the concert grand piano, and perhaps the time is ripe for Phillips Academy to begin a concert series that could attract artists the calibre of Schwartz.

Taylor Rental - Things To Rent For Every Event

Entertaining a crowd? Repairing your house? Going camping?
The supplies you need for these and hundreds of other projects can be expensive - if you buy, yes, but there's another solution.
The answer is RENTING - from Taylor Rental Center, 201 North
Main Street in Andover (behind McDonald's).

The Andover store is one of more than 300 franchised Centers throughout the United States.
Ted Von Rosenvinge of Andover and his two sons, owners of this unique business, offer a wide range of items for rent, indeed a veritable rental department store. They have all kinds of party and banquet items such as chairs, tables, dishes, silver, etc.

(including elegant champagne fountains, chafing dishes, and serving caseroles). They have exercise equipment, baby furniture, paint and wallpaper tools, camping equipment, television sets, lawn and garden equipment.
They even have a wide range of hand and power tools for carpentry work, cement work, plumbing, auto; plus heavy and light equipment for contractors and industry.

Renting offers the ideal solution to problems involving high cost for things that are used just once in awhile; for problems of storage (especially for apartment dwellers); for problems of repair and maintenance. Yes, rental from Taylor Rental Center is the happy answer to all these problems.

Renting is fast becoming a way of life for more and more people.
Americans are becoming more interested in "doing" things than in "owning" things. Of course, renting fits right into this picture.

Stop in at Taylor Rental
Center, 201 North Main Street, Andover and let them solve your special problems, too. For information, call Ted and his sons at 475-7550. They are always ready to serve you - with literally hundreds of rental items.

Now, Let Me Think

Reiji Hayes of Clark Road in Ballardvale had a busy Saturday schedule and had to think a moment before going for a visit to the zoomobile in North Andover. But, he took time for a glance toward photographer Elaine Apostola before proceeding on his way.

Impose One Hour Parking Limit

A one-hour parking zone on part of Main Street, just south of the business district, was approved by the Board of Selectmen Monday night.

However, Town Manager J. Maynard Austin indicated that the restriction would be posted and enforced only in the vicinity of The Andover Shop, 127 Main Street, for the time being.

The action allows a one-hour limit between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m., on the east side of Main Street from Punchard Avenue to Wheeler Street, and on the west side of Main Street from Locke Street to School Street.

Austin said the charge was initiated by complaints from the Andover Shop that all-day parkers have been using spaces in front of the store, leaving none for customers.

Police Chief David L. Nicoll and the Traffic Committee then made the recommendation.

Before the 4-0 vote for the new zone, Selectman Janet Lake said she felt The Andover Shop should have the same access to customer parking as other Main Street stores. She said, however, that if the restriction were enforced along the entire designated route, it might create a hardship for residents of the multiple dwellings in the area.

While long-term parkers might take to the side streets instead, Town Manager J. Maynard Austin suggested that they might resort to other bus stops entirely, thus causing no additional problems.

Selectman Chairman Milton

Greenberg was unable to attend Monday night's session, and Vice Chairman George Heseltine wielded the gavel.

AntiSmoking Evening Scheduled

An "Educational Evening" with an anti-smoking theme is scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 19 at 7:30 p.m. and will be held in the Lawrence Community Service Building at 430 North Canal Street. The program is sponsored jointly by the Greater Lawrence Chapter of the American Cancer Society and Bon Secours Hospital.

This informative session on cancer problems related to smoking is being held in response to the great public interest and concern with smoking-connected health problems. The program will be conducted by Doctor William Cook, well-known in the Lawrence area for his work with the Muto Thoracic Clinic.

Doctor Cook will show a film on smoking links to cancer and will follow the showing with a question-and-answer session. All who are interested in smoking problems are invited to attend. There is no admission fee.

own system.

This was, in essence, the Regan case. Regan held tenure as a school principal - he sought tenure as an assistant superintendent. The school committee denied him his second re-election thereby effectively checking his upward mobility. Since he held tenure as a principal the committee had, by law, to sustain him in his principal's position. However, he chose not to exercise his statutory rights. The knotty question this raises, totally apart from the Regan case is "Who passes on the competency of the staff?" - administrative as well as teaching.

If the superintendent submits a list of personnel he believes fitted for re-election or for tenure it is the duty of the school committee, by law, to approve or disapprove some or all of the names by a date certain.

If it approves, then it accepts, along with the administration, the responsibility for the approval.

But the assignment of a responsibility presupposed a concomitant discretionary function - or to put it more succinctly the committee has a right to disagree. If the school committee has no discretionary power in the election of personnel, then the list ought not to come before them for approval, but as a matter of law the list must be presented to the committee and the committee must act on it. School committee members assume those burdens upon election and we have seen that those burdens can be heavy.

On the tenure process we ought to make some observations.

It must not be supposed that after being elected to tenure teachers roll over and go to sleep. Simple pride and self-esteem are ample motivation for most mortals and this includes teachers.

Furthermore, the stimulating atmosphere which permeates working with young people and preparing them for a satisfying and self fulfilling life can be, and is an enormously rewarding life. Most teachers find these elements sufficient for coping with the occupational hazards of the profession.

The unfortunate thing about tenure is that it has an inherent capability for locking undesirable persons into positions from which they cannot be dislodged. People as well as times change. The enthusiastic, hard driving teacher of today, may become jaded, discouraged, and frustrated, or simply complacent.

When this happens he may come to regard the tenure law with slightly more reverence than that he reserved for holy writ.

Tenure seems to help those people most who ought not to have it.

Most of our teachers can be depended on to do an adequate job without the guarantee of tenure, but given the power of the education lobby and the responsiveness of the great and general court to the muscle of pressure groups the struggle for change may be a long and bitter one.

Dead are, Jorge Luis Valdez, in his 30's, who has worked at the farm for the past 15 years, and Gregorio Valles another worker who had been employed there about six weeks.

Both were seasonal workers. Another worker at the farm, Pedro Fontane Moret, told Andover Police Det. Sgt. Robert Parker, that he had heard the shooting about 7:30 a.m. and had gone to the kitchen area of the bunkhouse in which they all had resided.

The victim was lying on the floor and Valdez told Moret to go to the farm house and call the police. Valdez was holding a rifle.

When Noret returned to the bunkhouse, he found Valdez dead on the floor.

The Vartabedians have operated a farm at the Bellevue Road location for over 30 years. Annually, the farm workers arrive from Puerto Rico about May or June and remain until late October or November when they return to their native land.

Valdez had been preparing to return to his native land, and had purchased some fishing equipment a few days prior to the shooting.

Pedro Perez, another worker at the farm, also talked with police about the shooting, which apparently had no motive.

The two victims were considered friends by their co-workers at the farm and what happened in the early morning hours remains a mystery.

Andover Little League

The Annual Meeting of the Andover Little League will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 18, at 8 p.m. in the Print room of the Memorial Hall Library. Directors of 1976 will be elected at this meeting.

The announcement to the town manager on Wednesday was to allow the selectmen and planning board to review the proposed location and study the plan.

Postal officials informed the manager that they were desirous of locating closer to the center of town, but were unable to come up with an adequate location for the type of facility planned.

Local officials have until February to give the postal service an opinion on the proposed site or offer an alternate site.

The new facility would be located on two acres of land off Andover street and provide building and adequate parking facilities.

Singers To Present 'Passion'

The Cantata Singers, John Harbison conducting, will open their twelfth season with two performances of Bach's "St. Matthew Passion" on Nov. 19 and 20 at 7:30 p.m. at Sanders Theatre in Cambridge.

Appearing in leading roles are Karl Dan Sorensen of Brookline as the "Evangelist" and Jerrold Pope of Jamaica Plain as "Jesus." The soloists are Christine Whittlesey of New York City, soprano; Jane Struss of Boston, alto; Kim Scown of Jamaica Plain, tenor; and James Maddalena of Lynn, bass.

Ordered To Make Repairs At Fire Damaged Site

The owner of a house at 274 Lowell Street that was substantially burned some 14 months ago, has been ordered to clean up around the building, secure it against intruders, and make it weather-tight to prevent further damage.

Richard J. Stempel will be given 30 days by the Selectmen to take the necessary action, following a public hearing on the matter Monday night.

More than a dozen of his neighbors turned out to see what the town fathers would do about the property at the corner of Lowell Street and Wild Rose Drive that still has some 23 feet of roof open to the weather.

While the selectmen generally indicated they were in sympathy with Stempel's financial problems, they also said they had to consider his neighbors, who work to keep up their properties.

Selectman Janet Lake referred to the property as a "miserable hazard" and a "terrible eyesore" and said that she, for one, would be keeping an eye out to see how things progress. The problem had come before the selectmen in the first place, she said, because people in the neighborhood were so distressed.

The fire occurred on September 7, 1974, and Stempel's attorney, Bradley Latham of Reading, said Stempel has not been paid a cent by his insurance company. Meanwhile, Latham said, Stempel has had to bear the extra expense of renting a place to live, in addition to keeping up the mortgage and tax payments on his home.

Latham said they have filed suit in Essex Superior Court against the insurance company, but that the company had exercised its constitutional right to a jury trial, and he wasn't sure how the matter could be expedited.

He said they were seeking $70,000 to $80,000 for the house, plus $20,000 for contents and punitive damages that would amount to much more.

A recent letter from Building Inspector Arthur Peatman to the Town Manager recommends that the roof be closed in and made water tight and that the doors and windows be secured.

The town also asks that shrubs and grass be cleared next to the building to prevent a further fire hazard.

Latham said they "concur and agree" that the house should be brought up to par and said that Stempel is desirous to rebuild and move back in.

"It is in his best interest to do it," Latham said, adding that the building is neither in condition to sell or to move in to at this time.

Latham said they could adhere to all the orders within 30 days, with the possible exception of finishing the roof. He said they could get it framed in, with plywood and tar paper, but he didn't think Stempel could afford the added expense of shingling.

When the hearing was opened to the floor, Cornelius McCarthy, 4 Wild Rose Drive, called tar paper idea "an insult to my neighbors."

He added that the deed for houses in "Rolling Green," including Stempel's, forbids structures below a certain cost and requires that they be maintained at a certain level.

Town Counsel Alfred Daniels responded that a violation of a development plan was a civil matter that the neighbors could pursue, not the town, and Austin added that town statutes do not deal with aesthetics.

"I have the feeling that the town could not require shingles," he said, as long as the building met housing codes and safety standards.

Sam Ciaraldi, 2 Wild Rose Drive, added that his sympathies were with Stempel, "but we have been picking up debris since the fire. I don't want to pick up tar paper in my lawn mower next spring."

According to Austin's report, after two board of health requests for Stempel to clean up the fire debris last spring, the town counsel filed a complaint against him in Lawrence District Court. The complaint was subsequently withdrawn after debris was removed from the property.

According to Latham, the removal cost Stempel more than $500 and wasn't just a job he could do "in the trunk of his car."

A building permit was issued in April, 1975, to repair the damage, Austin said, but was voided on May 7 because the permit fee had not been paid. A new permit was issued July 1, and a portion of the roof was reframed and boarded, but not shingled.

Austin said the plywood that was put on then is beginning to deteriorate and "in a winter storm, could sail right off."

Atty. Daniels suggested that Monday night's order be delivered to Stempel or his attorney in writing, and that if the conditions weren't met within 30 days, the town could order the work done and put a lien against the property for the cost. He said the town could also order the building demolished.

Act on reduction of sources; 2, Haverhill Resource Recovery Facility; Update our position on solid waste disposal; 3, Haggetts Pond: Recreational facilities increase; 4, Landfill; a. Water Samples testing; b. Out-side opinions, e.g. Health department; 5, Merrimack River Clean-up; 6, Effect of highway salting on Haggetts Pond.

The schedule of units is as follows: Monday, Nov. 17, at noon at the home of Alice Friedenson, 9 Wildrose Drive; Tuesday, Nov. 18, at 9:15 a.m. (babysitting available for the Tuesday meeting at the Unitarian Church) meeting at the home of Linda Carpenter, 74 Argilla Road, and Thursday, Nov. 20, at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Elaine Katz, 68 Phillips St. The public is welcome.

Village To Be Topic

The second in a series of three programs on North Andover history will be held this coming Sunday afternoon, Nov. 16, at the Stevens Library in North Andover.

The topic is "Machine Shop Village," and deals with the industrial and residential architecture of Nineteenth Century North Andover. Stephen Roper, Architectural Consultant to the North Andover Historical Society will discuss the houses and mills located in the neighborhood of the Trinitarian Congregational Church and Davis and Furber.

The public is invited to attend the program which begins at 2:30 p.m. There is no admission charge.
